

TIPI AM KANZLERAMT

Where turn-of-the-century Berliners once amused themselves "In the Tents", only a few minutes away from the Reichstag Building and the Brandenburg Gate, in the middle of the Tiergarten park, stands one of Berlin's most exceptional venues: TIPI AM KANZLERAMT. This remarkable tent theatre by the Chancellery offers sophisticated amusement throughout the whole year: chanson, cabaret, variety, dance, acrobatics or musical comedy along with high-quality food and drinks.

The name the directors Lutz Deisinger and Holger Klotzbach chose for the theatre has a simple description: the TIPI is a tent, even though Berlin's TIPI doesn't have the classic pointed roof or smoke flap. In the language of the Dakota 'ti' means 'to live' and 'pi' means 'to use', which perfectly describes the 'home from home' we want to offer both artists and audience.

Here, every evening, renowned national artists present top-level, intelligent metropolitan entertainment. Regular guests include for example stars like Tim Fischer, Gayle Tufts, Georgette Dee, Rainald Grebe and René Marik with their latest musical programmes. International formations such as the funny 'Ukulele Orchestra of Great Britain', the Hip-Hop-artists Tom Tom Crew, the powerful-voiced Scottish tenors Caledon as well as the Venetian quick-change artist Ennio perform in TIPI AM KANZLERAMT regularly. Aside, readings and sparkling single performances with stars like Dieter Hildebrandt, Götz Alsmann or Georg Kreisler take place, an well-known actress like Andrea Sawatzki presents her first chanson recital.

The TIPI was manufactured by Europe's largest tent-maker and was opened on 8 June 2002 with a lavish revue broadcast live on 3sat. This revue, and the theatre's first few programmes, celebrated the tenth anniversary of another Berlin cabaret, the Bar jeder Vernunft - TIPI is the partner of the Bar jeder Vernunft. The evening was introduced by the talk-show host Alfred Biolek and the entertainer Gayle Tufts. The performers included Meret Becker, Otto Sander, Brigitte Mira, the Geschwister Pfister, Maren Kroymann and many, many others.

The blue-lined theatre space has 480 seats, almost all of them at tables. For catering TIPI offers a selected choice of dishes complementing both the season and the programmes, together with an excellent wine list. The enchanting tent architecture, covering 800 square metres with a height of eight metres at its highest point, gives rise to a unique atmosphere for events of all kinds. The technical equipment is state of the art. In summer there is an inviting beer garden with occasional barbeques and a good view of the Reichstag.

TIPI AM KANZLERAMT is also available for exclusive private events. Its great flexibility makes it equally ideal for large or small gatherings. Perfect service and an exciting atmosphere make an evening in the TIPI AM KANZLERAMT a guaranteed success.
